

The opposite of play is not work.
It is depression.

Children's Stories
Writing & discussion
Series – 01

Organized by MisFits for change

The purpose of this event is bring people who believe in justice and fairness for all, to engage in writing stories for children, that contains themes that spread the concept of fairness. For that we have to go back to being a child and the words that are related to a child's world!

What is your last memory of being a child?

When was the last time you engaged in a play, not thinking it as waste of time?

It seems like we have come a long way from being a child to an adult and it seems like we were children centuries ago.

The pressures to becoming an adult, took away the joys and the 'play' that once gave us -
Imagination & Innovation!
Creativeness & Happiness!
Those days are gone!

Abandoning the play we became adults, who are goal-set machines, just like the adults around us, we were 'made' to be useful. Being playful is not always about being useful; it's the spiritual joy. We forgot it. So this is time for us to return to our childhood play.
